

TIPS FOR TEMPLE VISIT:

The sacred temples in Thailand follow a dress code, which is strictly followed.

- Knees and shoulders must be covered.
- Visitors who arrive dressed otherwise may rent appropriate clothing items at the entry area.
- It is compulsory to remove the shoes before entering the temple, as a sign of respect.
- While offering prayers before the Buddha image, the sitting posture should avoid any offensive stretching of feet towards the deity; the feet should be tucked in towards the back.
